Series Statement

Series Information: The SSLEA (Sample Survey of Law Enforcement Agencies) survey is a mail survey that was first conducted in 1987. The survey collects data on personnel, expenditures, salaries, operations, equipment, special programs, and drug enforcement activities of law enforcement agencies.

The survey sponsor is the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS). The Demographic Statistical Methods Division at the Census Bureau was responsible for sample design, imputation and variance estimation cell formation for the survey in 1987, 1990, and 1993. Starting in 1997, the Economic Statistical Methods and Programming Division (ESMPD) is responsible for the sample design and imputation phases of the survey. The Governments Division (GOVS) is responsible for data collection and editing. BJS is responsible for variance estimation, so we will not produce variance estimation.

Study Scope

Abstract

This survey, the fifth in the Bureau of Justice Statistics' program on Law Enforcement and Administrative Statistics (LEMAS), presents information on law enforcement agencies: state police, county police, special police (state and local), municipal police, and sheriff's departments. Variables include size of the population served by the police or sheriff's department, levels of employment and spending, various functions of the department, average salary levels for uniformed officers, policies and programs, and other matters related to management and personnel.

Summary Data Description

Time Period:	1999
Date(s) of Collection:	1999-07--2000-07
Country:	United States
Geographic Coverage:	US states, counties, cities
Unit of Analysis:	Law enforcement agencies
Universe:	The universe for the 1999 SSLEA survey consists of agencies listed in the 1996 Directory Survey of Law Enforcement Agencies. The Directory includes all state and local law enforcement agencies that are publicly funded and employ at least one full-time or part-time sworn officer with general arrest powers. The universe file used for the 1997 sample selection contained 18,778 sheriff, municipal general purpose police, county general purpose police, state police, constable's office, tribal police, and special police agencies. The 1996 initial universe file is the file before edits. The 1996 final universe file is the universe after edits. We used the 1996 final universe file for weighting and imputation for the 1997 survey. BJS decided to use the same sample as in 1997, but deleted some special agencies from the sample. The deleted special agency subtypes are shown in Attachment A. Because some of the special agencies have been deleted from the 1999 sample, the universe for the 1999 sample has changed. The universe for the 1999 sample contains 17,540 sheriff, municipal general purpose police, county general purpose police, state police, tribal police, and special police agencies. See Attachment B for the base weights and final universe post-stratification factors. Memorandum from Ellis for the Record, "Documentation of the Sample Selection for the 1997 Sample Survey of Law Enforcement Agencies", November 6, 1997, contains more detail on 1997 sample selection. The 1997 special agency subtype of "Medical schools / facilities" is reduced to Medical schools for the 1999 survey. All medical facilities were deleted from the sample and the universe. The 1997 special agency subtype of "Tribal" now contains only tribal non-conservation agencies. One tribal wildlife agency (Columbia River Inter-tribal Police Department) has been deleted from the sample and universe. Hanover Park Police (id=1420165050260100) was coded as a special agency in the 1997 survey. It is actually a local agency. It is coded as local for the 1999 survey and has been given the appropriate base weight.

Kind of Data: The SSLEA survey is a mailed self-enumerated questionnaire that was first conducted in 1987. The survey collects data on personnel, expenditures, salaries, operations, equipment, special programs, and drug enforcement activities of law enforcement agencies.

Methodology and Processing

Data Collection Methodology

Mode of Data Collection:

Characteristics of Data Collection I. SAMPLE AGENCIES

Situation:

The law enforcement agencies were separated into two groups for the purposes of sample selection: self-representing (SR) and non-self-representing (NSR) agencies. All state police are SR. The definitions of SR and NSR are shown below.

A. SELF-REPRESENTING (SR) AGENCIES

An agency is SR if it meets one of the following two criteria:

- 1) An agency is a State Police agency
- 2) An agency has 100 or more sworn full-time-equivalent (FTE) employees.
- 3) Average number of sworn FTE=rounded[(# sworn full time employees) + 0.5*(# sworn part-time employees)]

B. NON-SELF-REPRESENTING (NSR) AGENCIES

All remaining agencies in Sheriff's Department, Local Police, and Special Police categories are NSR.

II. OUT-OF-SCOPES

An agency can be out-of-scope for the 1999 SSLEA survey because it disbanded after the 1997 SSLEA, but before the 1999 SSLEA. An agency can also be out-of-scope because it never should have been in the universe in the first place. Attachment C lists the 16 agencies that are out-of-scope for the purposes of the 1999 SSLEA.

III. CREATING CELLS FOR WEIGHTING AND IMPUTATION

We form cells for weighting and imputation within SR/NSR agency types by crossing average number of sworn officers with size of population served for Local Police Agencies and State Police Agencies.

For Special Police, we use the categories of average number of sworn officers and subtype of agency for weighting and imputation cells since size of population served isn't meaningful for this type of agency. After the sample reduction BJS requested, there weren't enough special agencies left to create cells based on SR/NSR status.

For Sheriff's Departments, we crossed average number of sworn officers with employee categories (number of employees working in jails, courts, and law enforcement), and whether or not the department had a jail.

Collapsed type of agency, average number of sworn officers, average number of full-time equivalents, subtype for special agencies, and size of population served come from the universe file.

- Study 3079 -

Cells need at least 15 respondents and an agency response rate of at least 70%. We collapsed cells within SR/NSR status and collapsed type of agency if either of those criteria were not met. We show the collapsed cells in Attachment D. The imputation / weighting cell number is field 281 on the file.

In the 1997 survey, we used the population field from the 1996 final directory, while using the employee duty counts from the earlier version of the directory when forming weighting and imputation cells for Sheriff's Departments. For the 1999 survey, we are using the employee duty counts from the 1996 final directory. Sheriff's Departments may have switched rows in the weighting and imputation cell tables from 1997 to 1999 due to the use of updated employee duty counts.

IV. WEIGHTING THE SAMPLE

Each agency that responds to the SSLEA survey receives:

- 1) a base weight
- 2) a 1997 final universe post-stratification weight
- 3) a 1999 final universe post-stratification factor,
- 4) a nonresponse adjustment factor, and
- 5) a final weight.

We describe how we calculate these base weights below.

A. CALCULATING THE BASE WEIGHT

The base weight (field 15) is defined in Ellis (1997). The base weight is also shown in the tables in Attachment B as the take-every.

B. CALCULATING THE 1997 FINAL UNIVERSE POSTSTRATIFICATION FACTOR

The 1997 final universe for the 1997 SSLEA is the 1996 Directory of Law Enforcement Agencies minus the out-of-scope agencies for the 1997 sample. There were 22 agencies on the 1996 Directory that were out-of-scope for the 1997 sample.

If we use the 1997 take-every as the base weight, the 1997 sample will not weight up to the final universe counts, due to many changes in the universe file after sample selection. We apply a 1997 final universe post-stratification factor (field 279) to the NSR take-every to force the base weight to weight up to the 1997 final universe counts. In each NSR stratum k , the appropriate factor is calculated as:

$$\text{final universe poststratification factor}_k = \frac{\text{number of NSR agencies}_k \text{ in final universe file}}{(\text{number of NSR agencies}_k \text{ selected for sample}) \cdot (\text{take-every}_k)}$$

The 1997 final universe post-stratification factor is set to 1 for all SR agencies. See Attachment B for the 1997 NSR final universe post-stratification factors.

For sampling purposes, tribal agencies were included in the special agency stratum. BJS includes tribal agencies with the local agencies for analysis purposes, so the counts shown in Attachment B will not agree with tables in BJS reports.

- Study 3079 -

C. THE 1999 FINAL UNIVERSE POST-STRATIFICATION FACTOR

The 1999 final universe for the 1999 SSLEA is the 1997 final universe minus the out-of- scope agencies for the 1999 sample and minus the special agency types that BJS deleted.

We apply a 1999 final universe post-stratification factor (field 280) to the NSR take- every times the 1997 final universe post-stratification factor to force the base weight to weight up to the final 1999 universe counts. In each NSR stratum k, the appropriate factor is calculated as

$$\text{nonresponse adjustment factor}_i = \frac{\sum_{\text{responding agencies}_i} \text{base weight}_{ij} * \text{poststratification factor}_{ij} + \sum_{\text{nonresponding agencies}_i} \text{base weight}_{ij} * \text{poststratification factor}_{ij}}{\sum_{\text{responding agencies}_i} \text{base weight}_{ij} * \text{poststratification factor}_{ij}}$$

The 1999 final universe post-stratification factor is set to 1 for all SR agencies. See Attachment B for the 1999 NSR final universe post-stratification factors.

For sampling purposes, tribal agencies were included in the special agency stratum. BJS includes tribal agencies with the local agencies for analysis purposes, so the counts shown in Attachment B will not agree with tables in BJS reports.

D. THE NON-RESPONSE ADJUSTMENT FACTOR

Some of the agencies selected for the sample did not return a questionnaire. To account for the non-response, we use a non-response adjustment factor (field 282). We apply the non-response adjustment factor within a collapsed cell. We provide a list of non- response agency identification numbers in Attachment E.

The non-response adjustment factor for imputation cell i is calculated as where j represents either the jth responding agency or the jth non-responding agency in imputation cell i.

E. CALCULATING THE FINAL WEIGHT

The final weight (field 705) for each agency is $$\text{final weight} \cdot \text{base weight} \cdot \text{poststratification factor} \cdot \text{nonresponse adjustment factor}$$

V. IMPUTING FOR MISSING NUMERIC VALUES

We looked at each numeric variable to determine the amount of non-response (Attachment F). Due to problems in previous surveys with the calls for service section of the questionnaire (fields 80 through 95), Census and BJS agreed to neither edit nor impute those fields. BJS had concerns about the quality of the data for the questions on mainframe computers (field 97) and mini- computers (field 99), so we did not impute those fields either. All other numeric fields were imputed if they contained missing data.

Before we imputed missing numeric values, we verified relationships between reported variables. We verified that detail summed to totals. Specifically, we checked that total personnel equaled the sum of personnel by duty:

- Study 3079 -

* field 171 = field 175 + field 177 + field 179 + field 181 + field 183 + field 185

and

* field 173 = field 176 + field 178 + field 180 + field 182 + field 184 + field 186.

In addition, we did range checks on fields before imputation. The range checks were checking to make sure that fields were within range of totals reported in other fields. Specifically, we checked that personnel by specific duty is less than or equal to total personnel:

* field 188 field 177

* field 189 field 171

and

* field 190 field 171.

If an agency has fewer than 10 employees, the detail on the personnel questions may not add up to the total. We allow the detail to exceed the total for these very small agencies. Field 171 may be less than the sum of fields 175, 177, 179, 181, 183, and 185. Field 173 may be less than the sum of fields 176, 178, 180, 182, 184, and 186. This can happen in very small agencies because an employee may have more than one major duty. As an example, a Sheriff=s department has 4 sworn full-time personnel, one of whom is the Sheriff. All of the sworn full-time personnel are patrol officers. This agency would list 1 for sworn full-time administration (the Sheriff), but list 4 for field operations (all the sworn full-time personnel, since the Sheriff also patrols the jurisdiction).

The question asking for the number of full-time sworn personnel working in field operations whose regularly assigned duties include responding to citizen calls for service (field 188) causes problems for small agencies. Officers who aren't counted under the field operations category may be responsible for responding to citizen calls for service, so field 188 may be greater than field 177 for these agencies.

Note that there are 4 agencies on the file that report more community policing officers (field 189) than full-time sworn personnel (field 171). GOVS called these agencies and confirmed the reported data.

To impute missing data, we used either median value imputation or ratio imputation. For each field imputed, we required that the imputation cell had at least 15 agencies responding to that particular field, and at least a 70% response rate in the cell. If either criteria was not met for a particular field, we further collapsed to the agency by SR/NSR status table and imputed with that data. See Attachment G for the list of fields where this further collapsing took place.

Field 174 was imputed first, because some of the other imputations depended on the value of field 174.

1. AN EXAMPLE OF MEDIAN VALUE IMPUTATION

We used median value imputation for fields 55, 56, 57, 58, 174, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195 and 196. To impute missing numeric data for these fields, we calculate the median of the reported data in each imputation cell. We use the median of the reported data, rounded to the nearest whole unit, as the imputed value for the missing data.

As an example, non-sworn part-time personnel (field 174) is missing for one agency in imputation / weighting cell number 9 (the group of local SR agencies with 500 to 999 average number of sworn FTE in 1996 and serving from 100,000 to 499,999 population in 1996).

- Study 3079 -

The 32 other agencies in imputation / weighting cell number 9 did report values for field 174. The median value reported is 10.

We use the median value as the imputed value, so 10 is assigned as the value for field 174 for the agency that was unable to report data for field 174.

2. AN EXAMPLE OF RATIO IMPUTATION

Missing numeric values that were ratio imputed are shown in Attachment H. Imputing values for employee counts by job duty required an extra step. Those fields are shown in Attachment I.

As an example, the number of computer servers used (field 103) is missing for one agency in imputation / weighting cell number 57 (special agencies of subtype Tribal). Of the 17 Tribal agencies that responded to the 1999 SSLEA, only 8 reported using computer servers and told us how many they use. Because fewer than 15 agencies report that they use computer servers, we need to collapse further for this item.

Of the 195 special agencies that responded to the 1999 SSLEA, 132 reported that they use computer servers and told us how many they use. To impute the number of computer servers used, we calculate the number of servers used per employee in each of the reporting agencies (field 103 divided by the sum field 171 + field 172 + field 173 + field 174). The median ratio reported is .034483.

We multiply the median ratio reported by the total employees for the agency that did not report the number of servers used and round to the nearest whole number to get an imputed value for the number of servers used by the agency. Thus .034483 times 57 employees rounded to the nearest whole unit equals 2, which is the value we assign to field 103 for the agency with missing data.

We expect that agencies with more employees will use more computer servers. Using ratio imputation adjusts for the number of employees, so that larger agencies with missing data will have a larger imputed value than smaller agencies with missing data.

2. USE OF ONE-DIMENSIONAL INTEGER ROUNDING

We used one-dimensional integer rounding to ensure that field 171 = field 175 + field 177 + field 179 + field 181 + field 183 + field 185 and field 173 = field 176 + field 178 + field 180 + field 182 + field 184 + field 186 after imputation. The rounding procedure assumes that the survey total is correct, and adjusts the imputed details so that the sum of the details equals the total.

Let Y be the survey total, and X_i represent a detail of the total, where i ranges from 1 to n , the number of the details in the sum. Calculate the adjustment factor, which is (survey total - sum of details before imputation) / (sum of details after imputation - sum of details before imputation). If an X_i has been imputed, set $X_i = (\text{adjustment factor}) * X_i$, to one decimal place.

Then convert each recalculated X_i to integer. Take the first recalculated X_i and round it up or down depending on whether the decimal is .5 or less. Take each subsequent recalculated X_i and add or subtract the remainder from the previous recalculated X_i prior to rounding.

As an example of one-dimensional rounding, an agency in imputation / weighting cell number 9 reported 232 full-time non-sworn personnel, but was unable to report how many worked in administration, field operations, technical support, jail operations, court operations and other. So we know that field 173 = 232, but we don't know what fields 176, 178, 180, 182, 184 and 186 are.

We use ratio imputation to impute the administration, field operations, technical support, jail operations, court operations and other full-time non-sworn personnel. From ratio imputation, we get 19 administration, 29 field operations, 185 technical support, 0 jail operations, 0 court operations and 0 other employees. However, $19 + 29 + 185 + 0 + 0 + 0 = 233$, not the 232 reported.

- Study 3079 -

The adjustment factor in this case is $(232 - 0) / (233 - 0)$. All of the details have been imputed for this agency, so the rounding procedure works as shown in the table below.

Field	Ratio imputation value	X_i	Rounded imputed value	Final value
176	19	$(232/233)(19) = 18.9$	round to 19, remainder is 0.1	19
178	29	$(232/233)(29) = 28.9$	$28.9 + 0.1 = 29.0$ so round to 29, remainder is 0.0	29
180	185	$(232/233)(185) = 184.2$	$184.2 - 0.0 = 184.2$ so round to 184, remainder is 0.2	184
182	0	$(232/233)(0) = 0.0$	$0.0 + 0.2 = 0.2$, so round to 0, remainder is 0.2	0
184	0	$(232/233)(0) = 0.0$	$0.0 - 0.2 = -0.2$, so round to 0, remainder is 0.2	0
186	0	$(232/233)(0) = 0.0$	$0.0 + 0.2 = 0.2$, so round to 0.	0
	233			232

VI. CONTENTS OF FILE ESMPD PROVIDED TO GOVS

ESMPD gave GOVS the response file with the following changes:

* We replaced 9-filled numeric fields with their imputed values, except for the calls, mainframe and mini-computer fields.

* We changed the flag values to 7 to show that we imputed a given field's value. We changed the flag values to 9 for the calls, mainframe and mini-computer fields to show that no imputation was attempted for item non-response.

* We attached additional variables C 1997 final universe post-stratification factor, 1999 final universe post-stratification factor, imputation / weighting cell number, non-response adjustment factor, and final weight. Attachment J shows the file layout.

VII. CAUTIONS WHEN ANALYZING THE DATA

National estimates from the 1999 SSLEA, such as the total number of agencies or the total number of employees, cannot be directly compared to national estimates from the 1997 SSLEA due to changes in the universe. We deleted some of the special agencies, so estimated characteristics of special agencies in the 1999 SSLEA are not directly comparable to the estimated characteristics of special agencies in the 1997 SSLEA. The universe for Sheriffs, Local agencies, and State agencies remained the same from 1997 to 1999, so 1997 estimated characteristics for these types of agencies can be compared to the 1999 estimated characteristics.

Users should be aware that estimates of law enforcement employees from SSLEA will differ from estimates from other sources, such as the Justice Expenditure and Employment Extracts, which are based on the Annual Finance Survey and the Annual Employment Survey. In the Justice Expenditure and Employment Extracts, data are presented by governmental function, whereas in SSLEA, employees are classified by type of agency.

In both the public employment and finance statistics, Aspecial police@ (i.e. park, airport, school, etc) are classified in the function of the parent agency. For example, the Washington DC Metro transit police would not be coded as law enforcement personnel, but rather as public transportation personnel. Also the finance and employment definitions specify that the police must have full (as opposed to limited) arrest powers to be classified under the law enforcement function. In many cases, such as schools, the collection instruments don't allow for the enumeration of law enforcement employees under a separate category.

Although the universe for SSLEA is state and local law enforcement agencies that are publicly funded and employ at least one full-time or part-time sworn officer with general arrest powers, there can be agencies in the sample who reported 0 sworn officers. This can happen in small agencies, which employed a sworn officer when the universe information was collected. However, that sworn officer is no longer employed by the agency when the sample information is collected and has yet to be replaced, so the agency reports 0 sworn officers.

VIII. IMPROVEMENTS FOR THE NEXT SSLEA

Getting accurate numbers on the calls for service questions continues to be difficult. The Establishment Survey Methods Staff of ESMPD might be able to improve this section through cognitive interviewing.

The 1999 questionnaire did not provide any definitions for specific types of computer equipment. The lack of definitions caused problems for some respondents. If we ask this type of question in the future, we should provide definitions.

The detailed personnel questions do not work well for small agencies, since some report employees in more than one duty category. Perhaps the detailed counts by duty should only be asked of agencies with more than a specified number of employees (i.e. 10 or 25).

Attachment A

Notes: Columbia River Inter-tribal Police Department was deleted from the 1999 sample but is not reflected in the chart above since all other tribal agencies in the 1997 sample were retained for 1999.

3 medical facility police agencies were deleted from the 1999 sample but are not reflected in the chart above since the rest of the facilities in the AMedical schools / facilities@ subtype that were in sample in 1997 were retained for 1999.

Hanover Park Police was mistakenly classified as a special agency under the AParks / recreation facilities@ subtype in 1997. This agency is actually a local agency and has been classified as such for the 1999 sample. The 21 AParks / recreation facilities@ agencies shown as deleted in the table above are all the other agencies of that subtype in the 1997 sample.

Notes: We don't show nonresponse rates for the calls questions because we didn't edit those fields. Any rate would be an estimate, since blanks on the form would need to be classified as either not applicable or true item nonresponse. Agencies that do not use a specific type of computer equipment are not counted as item nonrespondents for that type of computer equipment. To count as an item nonrespondent, the agency must indicate that it does use the equipment but be unable to provide a count for that type of equipment.

Attachment H

Note: For the computer use questions (fields 101, 103, 105, 107, 109, 111, 113, and 115), an agency must have reported at least 1 of that type of computer to be included in the imputation cell median calculations shown above.

Ratio Imputation For Missing Employee Counts by Job Duty

Field needing imputed value	Imputed value = imputation cell median * agency's value
	Rescaled imputation cell median of...	Agency's value of...
175	(field 175/field 171)	field 171
177	(field 177/field 171)	field 171

184	(field 184/field 173)	field 173
186	(field 186/field 173)	field 173

Because employee counts by job duty must add to total employees, the imputation cell medians are rescaled to sum to 1 before imputation takes place. As an example, we look at the data for imputation cell 8:

NOTES:

The flags attached to each numeric field are defined as follows:

0 = Reported data

1 = Estimated data

2 = Keying error

3 = Analyst adjustment without a phone call

4 = Actual data received from a follow-up phone call

5 = Estimated data received from a follow-up phone call

6 = Field failed edit, value verified with respondent

7 = Imputed value for item nonresponse

8 = Imputed value for unacceptable value from respondent

9 = Item nonresponse, no imputation attempted

The form flag field is whether or not a phone call was made to a respondent for a nonnumeric field edit correction. The values are:

0 = no edit corrections necessary

1 = edit corrections needed but no contact with respondent

2 = edit corrections needed, contacted respondent

Type of receipt field is how Census received the form from the respondent. The values are:

1 = Mail

2 = Fax

3 = Phone
